

KUSHIM 串 T 本

ご縁

Our restaurant is named after the foundations of today's Turkish and Japanese Brotherhood, a bit bitter and a bit emotional history.

The frigate "Ottoman Navy Ertugrul", launched in 1887 after the visit of the Japanese Prince Komatsu to Istanbul, has sunk near the village of Kushimoto, a settlement in Japan. With the help of the Kushimoto people, 60 Turkish sailors who survived this manual clash, where most of the crew died, returned to their homes safe and sound. After this event, the residents of Kushimoto continue to commemorate almost 500 Turkish sailors who died, giving the names of sailors and their wives to their new-born children. We have opened our doors, so you can taste the delicious Japanese cuisine in Kushimoto.
